Students Mad, They Want a Beer Bust

By DON NORTH
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Unless a beer-laden freighter goes aground here before week's end, the 1967 version of spring vacation for thousands of thirsty collegians stands to come off as mild as a May dance.

The new face of Daytona Beach is sudsless — leaving only bikinis, sun and sand as the surviving symbols of the annual student pilgrimage.

And the students don't like it. The villains in this tragedy are the city fathers whose "beer ban" came after they watched spring from 35 states last spring tinge their last penny to the town's taverns and motels. That's right, no more beer on the beach.

"Daytona's dead," said Boston College law student Bob Sakakeeni, 24. "The city spent all that money advertising suds and sand, now they've taken the suds away."

"The ban on beer has changed the entire picture," said Lt. Curtis Reid, chief of the police beach detail. "Last year you couldn't walk through the beer cans. Yesterday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. there were only five arrests. This is the best year yet."

But collegians who bummed, borrowed and bought their way thousands of miles to the fabled 23 miles of "beach and breads" are more than a little disgruntled.

The over-21 crowd has been driven "underground," to sunless bars and motels where girl watching is impossible. They languish away trying to decide between booze and beach.

Despite the beer ban, which apparently went unpublicized, Lt. Reid estimated 20,000 collegians were on hand and twice that number would show up by Easter Sunday.

This Marriage Just May Last

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — With a twinkle in her eye, Mrs. John Gadsby says it looks like her marriage is going to last. "I can't do much different at this age," she said today as she and her husband observed their 71st wedding anniversary. She is 93, her husband 92.

"The only time I feel old," says Gadsby, "is when I have a spat with my wife."

Sizeable SS Check to Local Woman

By JOE D. HARRISON

Mrs. Ola Cook of Hope recently received notice of her entitlement to social security benefits. Her notice came in a rather pleasant manner with a check for $1635.00 in back benefits. The payment was made to her based on the social security record of her son Joe.

Mrs. Cook was born September 17, 1882, in Montgomery, Ala. She came to this part of the country by wagon when she was two years old and has been an Arkansan ever since.

Just before World War II began Mrs. Cook lost her husband. While she was still recovering from this loss, she received notice from the Department of the Army that her son Joe had been killed in action in the Battle of Saint-Lo in France.

In 1961 Mrs. Cook heard that a person her age could receive social security benefits on the record of a deceased child if the child was furnishing at least one-half of the parent's support at the time of his death. When she applied for this benefit she was told that she was not eligible because she did not establish her dependency within two years after her son's death.

Recently she decided to check with the social security office again since there were so many new changes in the law. Actually, the law still requires that a dependent parent must file proof of support within two years after a child's death; but the requirement can be lifted if the dependent parent can establish since this was before Medicare, Mrs. Cook was able to do so. She already knows how the money will be spent.

About four years ago she suffered a severe attack and a year later she had to undergo a series of very painful and expensive operations. The result was some $10,000 in medical bills. Mrs. Cook is a very active person. At the age of 84 she still has as much zest for living as any 16-year old and is just as alert. Although a person's social security record is confidential, Mrs. Cook authorized the release of this information about her record. But before any debt was paid, ten per cent of her check went to the church.

BLEVINS SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 2

BLEVINS, ARKANSAS 71825

NOTICE OF SCHOOL DESEGREGATION PLAN UNDER TITLE VI OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS ACT OF 1964

THIS NOTICE IS MADE AVAILABLE TO INFORM YOU ABOUT THE DESEGREGATION OF OUR SCHOOLS. KEEP A COPY OF THIS NOTICE. IT WILL ANSWER MANY QUESTIONS ABOUT SCHOOL DESEGREGATION.

1. DESEGREGATION PLAN IN EFFECT

The BLEVINS public school system is being desegregated under a plan adopted in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The purpose of the desegregation plan is to eliminate from our school system the racial segregation of students and all other forms of discrimination based on race, color, or national origin.

2. THIRTY-DAY SPRING CHOICE PERIOD

Each student or his parent, or other adult person acting as parent, is required to choose the school the student will attend next school year. The choice period will begin on March 28, and close April 28, 1967.

3. EXPLANATORY LETTERS AND SCHOOL CHOICE FORMS

On the first day of the choice period, an explanatory letter and this notice will be sent by first-class mail to the parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of each student then in the schools who is expected to attend school the following school year. A school choice form will be sent with each letter, together with a return envelope addressed to the Superintendent. Additional copies of the letter, this notice and the choice form are freely available to the public at any school and at the Superintendent's office.

4. RETURNING THE CHOICE FORMS

Parents and students, at their option, may return the completed choice forms by hand to any school or by mail to the Superintendent's office, at any time during the 30-day choice period. No preference will be given for choosing early during the choice period. A choice is required for each student. No assignment to a school can be made unless a choice is made first.

5. CHOICE FORM INFORMATION

The school choice form lists the names, locations and grades offered for each school. The reasons for any choice made are not to be stated. The form asks for the name, address and age of the student, the school and grade currently or last attended, the school chosen for the following year, the appropriate signature, and whether the form has been signed by the student or his parent. Any letter or other written communication which identifies the student and the school he wishes to attend will be deemed just as valid as if submitted on the choice form supplied by the school system. The names of students and the schools they choose or are assigned to under the plan will not be made public by school officials.

6. COURSE AND PROGRAM INFORMATION

To guide students and parents in making a choice of school, listed below, by schools, are the courses and programs which are not given in every school in this school system.

The courses that Blevins Training School offers that Blevins High School does not offer are 4 years of Vocational Agriculture and American Government.

The courses that Blevins High School offers that are not offered at Blevins Training School are Business Law, Consumer Economics and Home Economics.

7. SIGNING THE CHOICE FORM

A choice form may be signed by a parent or other adult person acting as parent. A student who has reached the age of 15 at the time of choice, or will next enter the ninth or any higher grade, may sign his own choice form. The student's choice shall be controlling unless a different choice is exercised by his parent before the end of the period during which the student exercises his choice.

8. PROCESSING OF CHOICES

No choice will be denied for any reason other than overcrowding. In cases where granting all choices for any school would cause overcrowding, the students choosing the school who live closest to it will be assigned to that school. Whenever a choice is to be denied, overcrowding will be determined by a uniform standard applicable to all schools in the system.

9. NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT, SECOND CHOICE

All students and their parents will be promptly notified in writing of their school assignments. Should any student be denied his choice because of overcrowding he will be promptly notified and given a choice among all other schools in the system where space is available.

10. STUDENTS MOVING INTO THE COMMUNITY

A choice of school for any student who will be new to the school system may be made during the 30-day choice period or at any other time before he enrolls in school. An explanatory letter, this notice and the school choice form will be given out for each new student as soon as the school system knows about the student. At least seven days will be allowed for the return of the choice form when a choice is made after the 30-day choice period. A choice must be made for each student. No assignment to any school can be made unless a choice is made first.

11. STUDENTS ENTERING FIRST GRADE

The parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of every child entering the first grade is required to choose the school his child will attend. Choices will be made under the same free choice process used for students new to the school system in other grades, as provided in paragraph 10.

12. PRIORITY OF LATE CHOICES

No choice made after the end of the 30-day choice period may be denied for any reason other than overcrowding. In the event of overcrowding, choices made during the 30-day choice period will have first priority. Overcrowding will be determined by the standard provided for in paragraph 8. Any parent or student whose first choice is denied because of overcrowding will be given a second choice in the manner provided for in paragraph 9.

13. TESTS, HEALTH RECORDS AND OTHER ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Any academic tests or other procedures used in assigning students to schools, grades, classrooms, sections, courses of study, or for any other purpose, will be applied uniformly to all students without regard to race, color or national origin. No choice of school will be denied because of failure at the time of choice to provide any health record, birth certificate, or other document. The student will be tentatively assigned in accordance with the plan and the choice made, and given ample time to obtain any required document. Curriculum, credit, and promotion procedures will not be applied in such a way as to hamper freedom of choice of any student.

14. CHOICES ONCE MADE CANNOT BE ALTERED

Once a choice has been submitted, it may not be changed, even though the choice period has not ended. The choice is binding for the entire school year to which it applies, except in the case of (1) compelling hardship, (2) change of residence to a place where another school is closer, (3) the availability of a school designed to fit the special needs of a physically handicapped student, (4) the availability at another school of a course of study required by the student which is not available at the school chosen.

15. ALL OTHER ASPECTS OF SCHOOLS DESEGREGATED

All school-connected services, facilities, athletics, activities and programs are open to all on a desegregated basis. A student attending school for the first time on a desegregated basis may not be subject to any disqualification or waiting period for participation in activities and programs, including athletics, which might otherwise apply because he is a transfer student. All transportation furnished for the school system will also operate on a desegregated basis. Facilities will be desegregated, and no staff member will lose his position because of race, color or national origin. This includes any case where less staff is needed because schools are closed or enrollment is reduced.

16. ATTENDANCE ACROSS SCHOOL SYSTEM LINES

No arrangement will be made, or permission granted, by this school system for any students living in the community it serves to attend school in another school system, where this would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race, color or national origin. No arrangement will be made, or permission granted, by this school system for any students living in another school system to attend school in this system, where this would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race, color or national origin.

17. VIOLATIONS TO BE REPORTED

It is a violation of our desegregation plan for any school official or teacher to influence or dissuade any person from choosing a school where a desegregated education can be obtained, or to threaten any person with penalties or promise favors for any choice made. It is also a violation of Federal regulations for any person to intimidate, threaten, coerce, retaliate or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering with the free making of a choice of a desegregated school. Any person having any knowledge of any violation of these prohibitions should report the facts immediately by mail or phone to the Equal Educational Opportunities Program, U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C. 20202 (telephone 202-962-0333). The name of any person reporting any violation will not be disclosed without his consent. Any other violation of the desegregation plan or other discrimination based on race, color, or national origin in the school system is also a violation of Federal requirements, and should likewise be reported. Anyone with a complaint to report should first bring it to the attention of State or local school officials, unless he feels it would not be helpful to do so. If State or local officials do not correct the violation promptly, any person familiar with the facts of the violation should report them immediately to the U. S. Office of Education at the above address or phone number.

Newsman Released on Bond

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two Arkansas newsmen who spent a night in jail for refusing to answer a grand jury's question went free on $250 bond last night, but said they will not change their positions.

The pair, Jack Baker, 27, of the Arkansas Gazette, and Michael Smith, 24, of the Pine Bluff Commercial, had been held for about 30 hours without bond.

Their bond was set by the state Supreme Court during a special meeting last night in which the court also agreed to review the contempt of court citations against them.

"I don't see that my position has changed, other than I'm out of jail," Smith said. "I have no plans at this time to answer the judge's question."

"We have been as open as we could be and still keep our word," Smith said. "It would have been a simple thing to tell a petty lie or even pretend loss of memory."

"We are still hoping that these people who told us this confidential information will come forward and release us from our agreement," Smith said.

Baker would not comment on the day's events.

Circuit Court Judge William J. Kirby cited the newsmen for contempt for refusing to give him and the Pulaski County Grand Jury the names of legislators who, the reporters said, confided off the record that they were offered bribes to vote for a bill to legalize casino gambling in Hot Springs, Ark.

State Rep. Cayle Windsor of Little Rock touched off the grand jury investigation nearly three weeks ago when he said he was offered $1,000 to vote for the bill.

The bill passed the legislature but was vetoed by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who offered his moral support to the newsmen.

"I cannot in my heart feel it is your responsibility to reveal every source," Rockefeller said, every source," Rockefeller said.

He said he would check with the attorney general's office and his own legal aides to see if he should involve the governor's office in an investigation of alleged bribe offers.

Attorneys for the newsmen have 10 days in which to file briefs.

Flying Object Is Confirmed

PIGGOTT, Ark. (AP) — Rumors of an unidentified flying object near here possibly have been confirmed and squashed at the same time.

A meteorologist with the U.S. Weather Bureau in Memphis said he saw an unidentified flying object at "about tree-top level and a half-mile away" last week near Piggott.

A farmer of near Piggott found Thursday a flashlight attached to 20 gas filled balloons,

Violence Flares in Milk War

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey State Police ordered special patrols into farm areas of the state today to head off further violence in the increasingly bitter milk war resulting from the holding action by the National Farmers Organization.

As the holding action entered its 10th day, there were several other developments:

— Ray Johnson, director of the Wisconsin NFO, said the holding action is forcing Wisconsin milk processors into price talks. Processors were not immediately available for comment, but the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture said it had no knowledge of bargaining sessions.

— Owen Lee Staley, president of the NFO, said from his Corning, Iowa, headquarters that the action, initiated in a 25-state area, has spread to two new states.

— Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles repeated a suggestion that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman mediate the dispute.

— There were no visible signs that the holding action had cut deeply into the supply of milk, despite claims by the NFO that it knows of at least 10 million pounds that were dumped in public. The holding action is aimed at driving prices up 2 cents a quart by tightening the milk supply. Despite claims of victory by the NFO, milk prices appeared to be holding steady in the affected area.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It is something considerably less than an event when a new daytime television program is born on a network. Or, for that matter, when one dies.
There are a few hardy perennials — mostly soap operas — that go on year after year, but no one except a few million viewers pay much attention to them. But two of them, "As the World Turns" and "Edge of Night" both on CBS will be celebrating their 11th birthdays within a few days and nobody would dare even to estimate the number of deaths, births, illnesses and emotional crises they have encountered.

The networks — particularly NBC and ABC — are fond of daytime games because they are comparatively inexpensive to turn out and have a means to be an inexhaustible supply of variations of parlor games to base them on.

April is a period of change when the networks attempt to make some repairs in their daytime schedule. And this season is no different from last. ABC on April 3 will reshuffle its line up, dropping some morning reruns and substitute a new game show called "One in a Million" and also a combination gossip and interview show from Hollywood. On the same day, NBC will knock off "Reach for the Stars" after 13 weeks and replace it with something called "Snap Judgment."

The object of all the action is, of course, to improve the daytime Nielsen ratings which have for some time been dominated by CBS.

One NBC game show that joined the lineup on another April will be celebrating its fourth birthday — "Jeopardy."

Four years of such a show constitutes extreme longevity. Art Fleming, the show's host, counts the program in terms of the number of answers he has given contestants — almost 42,000. The program's gimmick is to provide the answers and have the contestants come up with the right questions.

Fleming thinks his show is still around because people "are entertained and also learn something."

Bill Dana of Joe Jimenez fame has been signed as host for the two-hour late-evening show from Las Vegas that will start broadcasting nightly to some 125 stations across the country on May 1.
The taped programs, featuring talent of the resort city, will be the first project of a "fourth network" formed by the United Broadcasting Co.

MEMBER SLUMP
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) report that membership has dropped to 1,903,395, down 23,985 from the total a year ago.

Disappointed at first response to his machine, Sholes feared it would be tossed aside as a novelty. For five years after it was introduced, he worked to perfect it and finally sold interest in it to E. Remington and Sons, small arms manufacturers, for $12,000. Their first model for commercial use was mounted on a sewing machine stand and employed a foot treadle for returning the carriage. Sholes is shown above in 1877 with an early portable, still ungainly compared to the modern Remington at upper right.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The talk of the film industry this week was the announcement by the Columbia Broadcasting System that it is going into the business of making movies for theaters.

"This makes it a whole new ball game," said a movie bigwig in assessing the significance of the CBS move.

The announcement was made by John A. Schneider, president of the CBS broadcast group.

The import of this development is being discussed in film industry circles.

At least three elements have emerged:

1. CBS is taking firm action to assure supply of feature movies for its network programming. And if CBS does so, NBC and ABC may well follow suit.

The smash success of "The Bridge on the River Kwai" this season proved the value of feature movies in prime time TV. All three networks have become increasingly concerned about the supply of features, which will be expended within three years. At that time the networks will have to start replaying films that have already appeared on TV — or else supply new ones.

2. The major studios will now be faced with direct competition by the television industry. Until now, the Hollywood companies have thrived by using television to bolster their finances; sales of TV series and old movies have saved the studios from insolvency.

For the first time, the old-line companies are faced with direct competition for theatrical bookings. Is the CBS move at variance with antitrust laws? The film companies may look into this. But CBS will undoubtedly seek to protect itself on that score.

3. Movie theaters will welcome the CBS development.

For the past decade the central theme of theater conventions has been: "We need more product." Exhibitors have claimed that the film producers do not supply enough new features to maintain a healthy industry.

The number of CBS features is expected to be no more than 10 per year at the beginning.

Now Is the Time for All Good Men to Honor the Typewriter

The boys down at Kleinstuber's machine shop in Milwaukee enjoyed tinkering, making little contrivances that might be useful. Best result of their puttering was the first effective typewriter, that made its debut when its chief inventor pecked out his name and the date—C. LATHAM SHOLES. SEPT. 1867.

Sholes' first working typewriter was similar to the one shown above. First woman typist in history was Lillian Sholes, the inventor's daughter. Later, the real impact of the invention was felt when it opened thousands of office jobs to women.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!
This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

PSYCHOLOGY VS. SPANKING
Dear Helen: I know you're retired of the spanking question, but this is different.

I am the father of a 13-year-old spoiled, headstrong girl. She has no respect for us, answers us back, does what she pleases. My wife is a Psychology nut and has a whole library full of books on the subject. She tells me spanking is OUT, that we could deeply hurt our daughter's psyche. I'm a dog if I even raise my voice to her.

Helen, when she gets mad at us, she runs away from home. She has done this several times, and I've had to spend the whole night searching for her. She usually turns up in the home of a friend — whose parents thought she had permission.

Well, she did it again last night. When we got her home, I said, "This is it!" With my wife begging, crying and threatening all the way, I gave my daughter a good solid spanking!

Now my wife won't speak to me. Was I so wrong. —DAD

Dear Dad: You were so-o-o RIGHT! And I'll bet your daughter will soon agree — if she doesn't get brainwashed by an over-psychologized Mama.

The biggest problem in your family is a "divided front."

When a girl can play one parent against the other, of course she has the winning hand. I'd suggest your wife play it your way for a while (which she won't). Later I hope you can get together on WISE psychology, which in my book means, "Try patience and understanding first, and if they fail, GET TOUGH, POP!" —H.

Dear Helen: My daughter is engaged to a fine boy who lives at home. His mother is very domineering. She insists that he pay her $35 a week room and board when his take-home pay is only $65 or $70. Sometimes she gets even more out of him. She only feeds him one meal a day, doesn't keep his clothes cleaned, and treats him terrible — doesn't even cook for him.

How can my daughter tell him in a nice way that he's being "took?" — MRS. W. M.

Dear Mrs. M: If the young man can't see this for himself he's too mother-managed for marriage!

He could save money and live better in a bachelor apartment... At around $75 rent, $30 food, and $10 utilities. —H.

Dear Helen: Another blast at INEZ who blasts working wives! She generalizes. There are bad working wives, just as there are bad "pure housewives."

The conscientious working mother is a better all-around person, for she is living every minute. My life includes PTA, church, community endeavors. Scout leadership, housework, real cooking, and much love for my family, which they return tenfold. Our children have learned self-reliance and consideration of others since I began work — they take over without being told. They are NOT neighborhood pests! I must admit I've been "deprived" of listening to coffee-break gossip, and daily TV serials; intruding neighbors; card playing and afternoon cocktails to relieve boredom, and telephone saleswomen. Some deprivation! — WORKING MOTHER

Dear Helen: Congratulations and thanks once again for defending the housewives of America. (Note from H: I defend 'em all — working wives, housewives, spinsters — just so they enjoy what they're doing and do it well!)

The "housewife and mother machine" is the most maligned, picked-on advice-ridden, and necessary thing in life. It is bombarded with lectures, books, magazine articles all advising totally different approaches.

Hey, ordinary American housewife out there crouching behind the refrigerator. Do you feel like a guided missile that doesn't know which way to go?

Well, just ask anybody. Everybody else knows exactly what you're supposed to be doing, and they'll gladly give you tons of blueprints.

Personally, I am proud to be a housewife: who else gets so much attention? — I could — DIE LAUGHING

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star. Copyright, 1967, Inc.

Bobcat Golf Team Loses to Magnolia

By RALPH BOUTON

After leading most of the way, the Hope Bobcats golf team fell by the wayside at Magnolia Thursday afternoon, dropping the match by a mere four strokes.

A balanced attack by the Magnolia golfers proved the margin of victory. The fact that Hope was the visiting team put another advantage in the Magnolia bag.

The Hope story was not all bad, though. Winning performances were recorded by Lee Fenwick and Ralph Bouton, each taking five-stroke victories in the individual matches. The team of Fenwick and Fred Ellis also tied their opposition, but the complete of Bouton and Danny Payne, were damped by six strokes from the Magnolia two-man.

Medalist for the event was Lee Fenwick of Hope, who fired an 82. He was closely followed by Ed Moore of Magnolia who had an 84. Magnolia did take the total team competition winning, 348-352 over the Hope boys.

Hope's next match is scheduled against strong Camden who travels to Hope Country Club this afternoon.

Big Aqueduct Show Awaits Good Weather

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

If Old Man Winter finally gives up, Aqueduct will stage a double-barreled stakes program Saturday and join with Gulfstream Park in presenting the top attractions on the American turf.

Aqueduct, forced by snow and sub-freezing temperatures to cancel four days of racing within the last week with a loss of an estimated $2 million to the state and track, has rescheduled the twice-postponed Preakness Handicap to go with seven furlongs of the Bay Shore for 3-year-olds. Each carries an added value of $25,000.

Gulfstream offers the $100,000 added Gulfstream Park Handicap, with the best of the East and West entered for the 1 1/4-mile test carrying a purse of $97,500 to the winner.

Entries were to be taken noon more today for the Preakness, with Advertiser again expected to head the field under topweight of 117 pounds. Seven were named the first time, but Seaman, last year's winner, was dropped the second time around. There was an outside chance that impressive would be entered in event the racing strip comes up fast. In that case he would be the highweight under 125 pounds.

Aqueduct officials look for a field of seven or eight in the Bay Shore—the second of New York's four prep for the May 6 running of the Kentucky Derby. To come are the one-mile Gotham April 15 and the 1 1/4-mile Woodward Memorial April 22.

Solo Landing, winner of the Swift on opening day March 13, is expected to go after his sixth straight victory as the highweight under 125 pounds.

Biggest Foe of Clay Is U.S. Army

NEW YORK (AP) — The contracts are all signed for Cassius Clay to fight Argentina's Oscar Bonavena, but first the heavy-weight champion is going to have to get past his most persistent of all opponents — the U.S. Army.

Clay and Bonavena have been matched for May 27 in Tokyo, but Clay has been ordered to report for induction into the Army on April 11.

"There will be several more appeals made in different areas shortly," one of the champion's representatives said Thursday. "All he needs is for one judge to grant him a stay."

Clay, who successfully defended his title with a seventh-round knockout of Zora Foley Wednesday is a member of the Black Muslims and is claiming that he is a minister for the Negro race and thus ineligible for the draft.

Very Happy to Outhit Nicklaus

By WILL GRIMSELY

Associated Press Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Young Tom Weiskopf doesn't want to just outhit Jack Nicklaus—he wants to outscore him.

"It's a thrill for me just to be paired with Jack. I think he's the greatest golfer in the world," the good-looking, 5-foot-3 slapper from Massillon, Ohio, said today. "But people are always wanting to get as together just to compare our tee shots."

Weiskopf was co-leader with Romero Bhancas and home pro Bob Keller going into the second round of the $75,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament today, and the gallery was tabling him as the new Babe Ruth of the game.

Weiskopf added two eagles in shooting a seven-under par 65 over the short, dry and soft Pensacola Country Club course Thursday to tie Bhancas, the former Houston University athlete, and the 35-year-old Keller from the nearby Eglin Air Force Base.

He drove the 314-yard, par 4 10th hole and sank a 15-foot putt. He reached the green in two on the four-par 5 holes, putting birds on two and eagling the 490-yard sixth.

The tall, 175-pound youngster gets tremendous length off the tee. Many observers regard him not only as golf's new power man but also potentially its next champion.

While Weiskopf was getting his 65, Nicklaus, driving badly, was shooting a 71.

Trailing the leaders, one shot back, were an amateur, Bob Cerrudo of San Rafael, Calif., who had nine birdies, and four pros, Dick Sikes, Jim Colbert, Paul Bonadona and defending champion Gay Brewer, tied at 66.

Doug Sanders, who was disqualified last year for failing to sign his scorecard, signed it four times. He had a 69, Gary Player, the little South African, shot a 68. Arnold Palmer and Bill Casper aren't competing.

Warriors, Hawks in Semifinals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rough and tumble National Basketball Association action puts both the San Francisco Warriors and the St. Louis Hawks 2-0 today in Western Division semifinal playoffs.

The Warriors gobbled up the Los Angeles Lakers here last night, 113-102, and the Hawks crushed the Chicago Bulls at Chicago Bulls, 113-107, as the four teams continued their best-of-five battles for the title.

Warrior Coach Bill Sharman tagged the playoff game in Los Angeles this way:

"This was a rougher game than normal league games...traditionally playoff games are rougher."

"There's more body contact and the guys are tired and irritable, playing for a lot of money," he said.

Sharman's comments came on the heels of a fist-fight that erupted in the last minutes of play between the Warriors' Rick Barry and Jerry Chambers of the Lakers.

The fight started with some hot words and both men tossed a couple of punches before officials broke them up.

The next division playoff game is slated between the Bulls and the Hawks Saturday at St. Louis.

The Lakers meet the Warriors again Sunday morning in San Francisco.

No games were scheduled in the Eastern Division NBA playoffs.

The victory for the Hawks came in the final period as Chicago saw its 82-79 lead dwindle.

Lou Hudson made a fast break basket with 6:45 remaining to put St. Louis ahead 98-97.

The Bulls never caught up. Hudson jammed in 29 points during the play.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus blamed his team's defeat on the fast-shooting Warrior, Nate Thurmond.

"Thurmond did it," mourned Schaus. "He did it all at both ends of the court. He rebounded, blocked shots and he intimidated our shooters."

The absence of Laker guard Jerry West, who suffers from a sprained ankle, may have been a cause of Laker despair but Schaus said, "We can't blame the lack of scoring on West's absence."

"Anyway," he added, "West will probably play Sunday."

Rick Barry led the scoring for the Warriors with 26 points.

To Televis Arkansas, Texas Game

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

POMPAHO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ken Harrelson, who's in never-never land as a golfer, is determined to think baseball always.

Harrelson, first baseman of the Washington Senators, long has lashed himself as being one of the most versatile and best athletes in baseball.

Now, however, he's given up billiards, bowling, basketball, water polo, football, skin diving, arm wrestling and even golf so he can concentrate on baseball.

Actually he's not giving up golf completely — just for the season — although maybe he should, considering his status in the golfing world.

"I'm a non-amateur and a non-pro," said Harrelson, who failed last month to win the baseball players' tournament for the third straight year.

"Joe Dye of the U.S. Golf Association took my amateur standing away from me last year. I declared my intention to turn pro last spring but never did. Last June they ruled I no longer was an amateur just because I declared my intention."

"I was supposed to turn pro and go on the tour after last baseball season, but there was a mix-up and I never did. Now only tournaments I can play in are those not sanctioned by the U.S.G.A. and the PGA."

"But I'm not going to play a bit of golf during baseball season, not even on off days. This will be the first year I've given baseball a full shot. Last year I was thinking about golf, and my concentration was divided. You can't do well like that."

The 25-year-old right-hander is looking forward to a big year, which if he gets it would be his first in the majors. In four previous seasons he's batted .230, .194, .235 and .237.

the veteran Al Kaline (.256 with 29 homers and 82 RBI) in right. Mickey Stanley (.269) is a fine center fielder without power. Gates Brown (.266) swing a heavy bat.

If the infield experiment continues to work out, Norm Cash (.279) will be at first, McAuliffe (.274) at second, Oyler at short and Don Wert (.266) at third. All but Oyler have home run potential.

Bill Freehan, who slumped to .234 last season, is the catcher. He will do most of the work, as usual. The backup jobs are up for grabs.

It is the pitching that causes concern. Mickey Lolich (14-14) is the lone regular lefty starter although the veteran Johnny Podres (4-5) will see spot duty. McLain (20-14) was the big winner and Earl Wilson (16-11) was sensational after he came over from Boston.

Much depends on the ability of Sparma to approach his 13-3 year of 1965 after a poor 2-7 season. Dave Wickersham (3-3) will start against certain clubs. Aguirre (3-5) and Montbouquette (7-8) will try it in the bullpen where Larry Sherry (3-5), Orlando Pena (4-2) and Fred Gladding (5-0) were the workhorses last year.

Smith also has been taking a look at the veteran Johnny Klippstein, out loose by the Twins. George Korfne (3-8 at Montgomery), and John Hiller (3-7 at Syracuse), are the best of the newcomers.

Harrelson Sets Mind on Baseball

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — If anybody is going to beat the Baltimore Orioles this year, it could be the Detroit Tigers.

Mayo Smith, returning to the managerial ranks after an eight-year lapse, can make a run for it all the way if he can straighten out his pitching staff.

Mayo hired an expert helper to work with the pitchers when he picked up Johnny Sain, who did exceptionally fine jobs with the Yankees and Minnesota Twins. A personality conflict with coach Billy Martin and Manager Sam Mele led to his shift from the Twins to the Tigers.

The Tigers' pitching was supposed to be formidable last year but Joe Sparma failed to live up to his bright promise and Bill Montbouquette, a consistent winner at Boston, could finish only two of 14 starts for Detroit.

Detroit has the hitting with a solid ball club that batted .251, a second in the league, and hit more homers (179) than any team in the American League. The trouble was that the enemy hit even more homers (165) off Tiger pitching, including a bumper crop of 42 off young Denny McLain.

"Tiger Stadium and Yankee Stadium are not easy parks for pitchers," said Smith. "The ball goes pretty good to right field or left. You can't make everybody a low ball pitcher. You look at the runs scored (715) and the runs scored against you (698) and you get an idea where the Tigers' big problem was."

Smith is going down the line with a veteran ball club. Except for the outfield, where he is five-deep, it is a thin front line of established players.

"We've got to stay healthy," said Smith. "We can't suffer any serious injuries and stay in the thick of it. I know we have great potential if we can stay in one piece."

"We have no young phenoms that I can see. Sitting in the stands for a time, scouting the other clubs, taught me a lesson. You see a lot of good looking players in the spring that fade when they start to play for keeps. I'd rather see a little more. I don't see any super fellows."

The one big change in the Tigers this spring is the shift of shortstop Dick McAuliffe to second base. Most of the rival managers who have seen the experiment in exhibitions rave about McAuliffe's work at the new job. However, Ray Oyler, the new shortstop, must do much better than his .171 of last year to make it stick.

The tragic deaths last year of both Manager Charley Dresen and his successor, Bob Swift, exposed the Tigers to tremendous emotional stress last season. They still broke even with Baltimore on the season series and held second place for all but two of the last 104 days. Minnesota finally passed them on the final weekend.

"I have to respect Baltimore," said Smith, "but everybody had a good year for them. It remains to be seen whether complacency has set in. I think they are vulnerable."

"Our main job is to stabilize the bullpen. Maybe Hank Aguirre and Montbouquette can help out the others now and then."

On the plus side, the Tigers have a solid outfield with Willie Horton (.262 with 27 homers and 100 RBI) in left, probably Jim Northrup (.265) in center and

EDITOR'S NOTE — In 1957, North Carolina's Tar Heels won 32 games without defeat and whipped Kansas and Will Chamberlain for the National Collegiate basketball championship. Joe Quigg was a member of the starting team and won the game on two free throws. Quigg, now a dentist in Fayetteville, N.C., reminisces about the 1957 season, and also talks about this year's North Carolina team.

By JOE QUIGG
As Told to Steve Thompson
FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Any coach will tell you he's not looking past his next opponent. That's fine. But what about the players?

That was our problem against Michigan State in the 1957 NCAA semifinals. We were looking ahead to Kansas and Will Chamberlain in the finals, and it almost cost us.

It took us three overtimes to beat Michigan State, a team which we were supposed to beat easily. Kansas had been very impressive against San Francisco and because of this the Jayhawkers were favored in the title game.

Coach McGuire (Frank McGuire, now head coach at South Carolina) said in the dressing room, "You're No. 1. And if you want to stay there you'll have to win."

He had us believing we could do the job and we weren't nervous at all.

I don't remember much about the championship game against Kansas, except for the last few seconds. I do recall that we were behind by a point with about 10 seconds to go in the third overtime. We knew we had to score.

We had the ball and somebody, I don't remember who, shot and missed. Somehow I got the ball at the top of the key and started toward the basket.

Chamberlain was standing there and the only way for me to get past him was to go around. I started to the left for the shot, but was fouled by Maurice King. Fortunately I made both free throws to put us ahead by one point with six seconds left.

On Kansas' inbound play, which was supposed to go to Chamberlain, I stuck my hand out and deflected the ball to Tommy Kearns. He threw it straight up and the game ended before the ball came down. We won 54-53 and I don't know when I've been more glad to see a game end than I was that one.

As good as the 1957 team was, I think Carolina this year could have beaten us hands down. As for their chances at the title, I think they're real good.

Don't Have to be First to Win Title

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Defending champion Southern California was proving you don't have to take first place to win titles in the first round of the finals of the NCAA Swimming Championships Thursday night.

Stanford and UCLA each won two first places in the five final events at the Michigan State pool, and Indiana broke California domination of the one-meter diving.

But Southern California, shooting for its fifth straight NCAA team title, still held a one-point lead, thanks to great team strength.

The best effort by the Trojans was a second by Don Havens in the 50-yard freestyle.

The event was won by Zach Zorn of UCLA in 21.12 seconds.

Southern California led after the first night with 83 points. Indiana was second with 82, Stanford third with 75 and UCLA fourth with 61.

The remainder of the team scoring Michigan 41, Yale 35, Southern Methodist 26, Ohio State 25, Michigan State 21, Minnesota 15, North Carolina 13, North Carolina State and Oregon 12, Southern Illinois 11, Wisconsin 9, Army 4, Duke and Wyoming 3, Maryland, Utah and Villanova 2, and Purdue 1.

The runner-up ratings in the National Hockey League today find the Toronto Maple Leafs up, the New York Rangers down and the Montreal Canadiens unchanged.

The Leafs got a hat trick from light-scoring Pete Stelmowski and overpowered Boston 5-3 Thursday night to grab sole possession of second place.

New York was victimized on two goals by defenseman Gary Bergman and the 74th of Gordie Howe's fabulous NHL career, dropping a 4-1 decision to Detroit. The loss dropped the Rangers one point back of the Leafs in third place.

Montreal was idle and remained one point back of New York.

Toronto trailed the Bruins 3-1 with 4 1/2 minutes gone in the third period when Stelmowski triggered the winning four-goal rally with a goal-mouth setup for Jim Pappin.

Then Stelmowski, who had only nine goals going into the game, scored his second of the night, tying the score at 9:18 on a power play.

Less than 2 1/2 minutes later, Stelmowski hit again, giving Toronto the lead. Larry Jeffrey added an insurance goal for the WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 24 (AP) — The Boston Red Sox experiment of converting George Scott into an outfielder appeared ended today after the big slugger came out second best in a collision with the right field wall.

The defeat doomed the Bruins to their sixth last place finish in the last seven years.

After Howe's goal — his 25th of the season — had broken a scoreless tie in the second period, Bergman converted a pass from Ray Cullen for his fourth goal of the year.

Of the three teams battling for second place, the Rangers are in the poorest position.

McDowell
May Have a Solution
By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Sam McDowell, the Cleveland Indians' big left-hander with the blazing fastball, may have found a winning solution to his battle with a pinched nerve.
Winner of 17 games in 1965 and possessor of a 4-0 record through May 1 of last year including two shutouts, McDowell fought arm trouble the rest of the year and finished 9-8.
Diagnosed as a nerve pinch in the upper arm, the injury pained halfway through the winter, McDowell said.
"The arm is now coming along," Sam said just before pitching three shutout innings against the San Francisco Giants. "Since November 1, I've been following a program which included swimming, calisthenics and exercises."
The swimming, before spring training started, was prescribed to stretch the arm muscles even though that sport usually isn't recommended for baseball players.
"I'm still exercising each day and taking things slow and steady," explained the 6-foot-5 hurler. "I don't want to baby it, but at the same time I don't want to hurt it."

McDowell hopes the 15 to 20 minutes of stretching exercises daily will help prevent any recurrence since a big season by the southpaw could mean a big difference in the final standings. A year ago, the Tribe led the American League on June 12 and then slipped to fifth, 17 games off the pace.
So it was good news for the Indians when the man rated one of the hardest, if not the hardest, throwers in the game, said "The arm feels much better this spring than it did last year."

Thursdays opening rounds at the Kent State University Field House produced two major upsets.
Top-seeded 130-pounder Joe Peritore of Lehigh was defeated by Oklahoma's Harold McGuire, 4-2, in the second round.
In the first round, Mike Gluck of Wisconsin knocked off top-seeded 145-pounder Jim Rogers of Oklahoma State.
and Jake Gibbs had a homer.
Phil Gagliano hit two two-run doubles for St. Louis, offsetting a solo homer by Tony Oliva.
Bob Gibson, who won 21 games for the Cards last season, was the winning pitcher.
Willie Horton's three-run homer and Mickey Stanley's three runs batted in led the Tigers past the Orioles. Horton now has nine RBI for the spring. Joe Sparda went nine strong innings for the Tigers.
Dave Duncan and Ossie Chavarria hit successive home runs for the Athletics, who won their first game in Florida. Peter Ward hit a three-run homer for the White Sox.
Ken Henderson homered and tripled, leading the Giants past the Indians.

PEN-RAISED BIRDS on preserves like Nilo Farms provide another avenue of hunting for marksmen and have proved that preserve hunting can be as thrilling as the real thing.

Michigan in Lead in Wrestling

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Michigan grabbed the team lead following the first two rounds of competition, but favored Michigan State qualified the most men for today's quarter-finals in the 37th NCAA Wrestling Championships.
Michigan, which had six wrestlers advancing, along with Iowa State and Oklahoma, tallied 18 points in the first day's matches Thursday.
Iowa State and Lehigh, the Eastern champion, each had 15 points. Michigan State and Oklahoma were tied at 14, with defending champion Oklahoma State one point back. Penn State had 12, Portland State 11, Wyoming 10 and East Stroudsburg, Pa., State was 10th with 9 points.

Holds Phils Hitless for Six Innings

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Judge Roy Hofheinz is trying to lure the Democrats and the Republicans to the Astrodome, but Mike Cuellar seems to be out to show that the big bubble will be no place for Houston opponents of either party if they have bats in their hands.
Hofheinz, owner of the Astros, said Thursday that he was having an office for the President built in the right-field area of the Astrodome in the hopes of inducing both parties to hold their 1968 conventions there.
Meanwhile, down in Cocoa, Fla., Cuellar was holding Philadelphia hitless for six innings and running his scoreless-inning streak to 10 1-3, while the Astros topped the Phils 3-0.

Last year, the Cuban-born left-hander's 2.22 earned-run average was second in the National League only to Sandy Koufax's.
In other exhibition games, Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati 8-2, Boston took Los Angeles 7-4, the Yankees clubbed the Mets 12-3, St. Louis turned back Minnesota 9-4, Detroit shut out Baltimore 11-0, Kansas City edged the White Sox 5-3, San Francisco took Cleveland 5-3, Atlanta beat its Richmond farm club 4-3 and California topped the Cubs 2-1.
Teaming up with Cuellar for the Astros' shutout was Claude Raymond, who allowed the Phils their only hit of the afternoon, a single by Doug Clemens in the eighth inning.
Willie Stargell drove in five runs with a homer and a pair of singles in the Pirates' victory. Bob Veale shut out the Reds on three hits in the five innings he worked.

Russ Gibson hit a three-run pinch homer in the Red Sox triumph over the Dodgers. George Scott, Boston slugger, suffered a concussion when he ran into a concrete fence in right field when chasing a fly ball.
Ray Barker hit for the cycle, leading a 15-hit Yankee attack in their victory over the Mets. Charley Smith, a former Met, had three singles and a double,

JIM PALMER, right, 21-year-old pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles, has one big claim to fame. Palmer beat Sandy Koufax, left, the Dodger great, in Sandy's last official appearance as a major league pitcher in the second game of the 1966 World Series.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Not All Women Have Menopausal Symptoms

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—When starting the menopause, do the menstrual periods stop abruptly or gradually? If one period is missed should a doctor be consulted? What are the symptoms of the menopause and at what age does it start?

A—The cessation of ovarian function, which is the underlying cause of the menopause, is gradual. The menstrual periods become shorter and the intervals irregular and prolonged. Although the menopause usually starts in the mid-40s the onset is so gradual it cannot be pinpointed and there is a wide variation in different individuals. In any case, there is no need to consult a physician unless severe symptoms or complications are present.

Many women have no menopausal symptoms. Others have intermittent hot flushes felt chiefly in the head, neck and chest, with or without profuse sweats. When headaches, dizziness, fatigue, joint pains and irritability are also noted some cause other than the menopause should be sought.

Q—At what age should one start to take female hormones for the menopause?
A—This treatment, now widely practiced, may be started when the hot flushes become a source of annoyance. The dosage must be carefully adjusted to prevent a feeling of heaviness in the pelvis and soreness in the breasts.

Q—My uterus was removed two years ago. Should I take female hormones daily? Do hormones cause cancer?
A—Estrogens given to relieve the symptoms of either natural menopause or that following removal of the uterus will not cause cancer and may even help to prevent it. They are not advised, however, for women who have had any type of cancer. If your uterus was removed because of cancer, don't take them.

Q—Do men go through a change of life?
A—In men a gradual decrease in the production of male hormones occurs in the late-50s but is never total.
Whether to call the resulting periods of irritability and depression menopausal or mere manifestations of aging is a moot question.

Q—Is it harmful for a person to take Riordan tablets every night for insomnia?
A—The nearest I can come to finding the drug you mentioned is Riopan. This is an antacid and would help insomnia only if the latter were caused by a peptic ulcer or heartburn. It would not be harmful to take it every night.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt,
M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

North has an ace and two kings and is interested in getting to a slam the moment he hears South's two club opening but he has no convenient positive response. He has no suit to bid and no reason to want to be declarer at a no-trump contract. North's best bet is to mark time by responding with two diamonds.
When South rebids two no-trump to show 23 or 24 high card points and a no-trump hand, North has no further problem. He moves directly to six no-trump because he counts 33 or 34 high card points for the partnership.

Leaders Disagree What, If Anything, Congress Can Boast of

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders disagree about what, if anything, the 90th Congress can boast about after 11 weeks of activity.

But as they left today on the first prolonged recess of the year, there was general agreement that tough problems lie ahead for the five months between April 3, when the session resumes, and Labor Day, when Congress hopes to quit for the year.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma said he was "pleased, and I believe the country should be pleased, at the progress we are making and the pace we are setting in the House."

That wasn't the way House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan saw it. Congress, said Ford, is "wallowing in inaction" and its record is "near zero."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told his colleagues he hoped they would "return with renewed vigor for the work ahead in the next few months."

He said plans are underway for an Aug. 1 adjournment but added: "I, for one, will gladly settle for Sept. 1."

Most headlines so far have come from nonlegislative actions involving personal conduct of members.

The House had declared vacant the seat of Adam Clayton Powell, New York Democrat whose personal affairs and handling of committee funds were the subject of two committee probes. The Powell case may confront the House again, for the Negro clergyman is a favorite to be re-elected in a special election April 11.

Albert said he expects the House would seat Powell but take other punitive actions. Ford said "my judgement is that the House is adamant today as it was" when it took earlier action against Powell.

The Senate got into the ethics act with a committee investigation of the financial problems of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. The hearings have ended but the committee has taken no action.

On the legislative side of the ledger, four major bills have been sent to President Johnson. They authorize more military hardware for use in Vietnam, $12.2 billion to pay for additional war costs in Southeast Asia, an increase in the national debt ceiling and emergency food relief for famine-threatened India.

Two others have been passed in differing forms by the House and Senate and are awaiting compromise. They would liberalize veterans' benefits and reorganize the Indian Claims Commission.

Measures passed by the House, including a renewed business tax incentives bill and a resolution intended to strengthen the President's position at the Latin-American summit conference next month, are high on the Senate priority list for after Easter.

The Senate has passed and sent to the House a $20.7-billion military procurement authorization bill and a congressional reorganization measure. It has ratified a U.S.-Soviet consular treaty which requires no House action.

Reaction to Draft Lottery All Negative

By JACK MILLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans writing their congressmen about the draft overwhelmingly oppose President Johnson's plans to induct 19-year-olds first and choose them by lottery, an Associated Press survey showed today.

And there is strong support for continuation of college deferments, letters and telegrams indicate.

The President's announcement that draft priorities will be reversed to take youngest men first has drawn personal and passionate objections.

"These young boys are not men yet and certainly deserve to live to be at least 21 years of age," wrote the mother of one. "18 is too young to die for any cause."

Reflecting the historic anguish of mothers whose sons go to war, she added: "I would go in my son's place gladly because I have lived."

One man said "an army of boys too young to buy a drink, own a car or marry without parental consent is an army of children."

Johnson announced in a message to Congress March 6 that he will issue executive orders to begin the youngest-first callup and the lottery. The lottery should be in operation by Jan. 1, 1969, he said.

The President took no position on college deferments, saying the issue needs further consideration.

Letters and telegrams opposing the 19-year-old callup plan came mainly from parents. The sample of about 500 turned up none which could be identified as from youths themselves.

A number of professional military men expressed support for idea, saying younger men adapt more easily to the military.

The opposition to eliminating college deferments was overwhelming.

One father of three sons told of how he worked to impress them with the importance of getting a college education.

Now that his son has been accepted to a college, he wrote, "if you take him, and millions like him into the service for several years, many of them will either lose their enthusiasm for studying or else lose their ability to study and absorb knowledge."

A presidential commission on the draft found no evidence "that the abolishment of student deferments would deter young men selected for service from going to college, or returning to college, when their service was completed."

People writing in protest of college deferments included several mothers of noncollege boys.

One mother said of college boys: "Just because they are smarter with books and went on to college don't make them one bit better than the laboring boy."

A lottery opponent said, "We would be taking a hit or miss, by guess and by golly approach to decide which of our most critical resources, men, we would get."

8 American Educators Die in Crash

SAIGON (AP) — A small twin-engine plane carrying eight U.S. educators crashed into a mountain in turbulent rainy weather north of Da Nang Thursday and all eight and their pilot were killed, a U.S. spokesman said today.

The team leader was Dr. James Albertson, president of the Stevens Point branch of Wisconsin State University.

Notification of his death and of the others was dispatched to their families in the United States.

The other identified victims were:

Dr. Melvin Wall, professor of agriculture of the River Falls branch of Wisconsin State University.

Dr. Howard Johnshoy, dean of academic affairs at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn.

Dr. A. Donald Beattie, dean of the School of Business and economics at the Whitewater branch of Wisconsin State University.

Dr. Harry Bangsberg, president of Bemidji State University, Bemidji, Minn.

Dr. Vincent Conroy, director of center field studies at Harvard.

Dr. Arthur D. Pickett, director of honor programs, University of Illinois, Chicago.

Robert La Follette, an Agency for International Development official stationed at Saigon. La Follette was a Harvard graduate and former professor of history at the University of Maryland.

Denies NATO Official in Spy Ring

By GERALD MILLER
ROME (AP) — The Italian Defense Ministry Thursday night denied press reports that officials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization have been implicated in the Soviet spy ring it is investigating.

In a similar communique, NATO headquarters in Paris said it had been informed that news of "the alleged involvement of 300 NATO officers in the spy ring discovered in Italy lacks any foundation."

Informants had said earlier that Giorgio Rinaldi, an Italian parachuting instructor held in Turin as the central figure in the spy network, told Italian counterintelligence agents that 300 NATO employees were involved.

Rinaldi was reported fearful that he would be killed to prevent him from talking. He, his wife, and their chauffeur, Armando Girard, were arrested March 15 and formally charged Wednesday with gathering data on American bases in Italy and Spain and selling it to the Soviets.

Rinaldi visited the Soviet Union four times from 1958 to last year and was made a colonel in the Soviet intelligence service, Italian newspapers reported.

One newspaper said the spy organization was developed over a period of seven years at a cost of $16 million.

The government of Cyprus confirmed press reports that arrests had been made there during an espionage investigation.

TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CU CHI, Vietnam — (NEA) — The difference between Capt. James Pierce and the rest of the soldiers in his outfit is that he wears a small white cross on his collar, the insignia of a chaplain.

But there ends his distinction. The cross gives Jim Pierce no immunities here. He is a man of God, but only a man and thus wears no special armor.

He can be frightened. He can be weak. And he can err.

The other day the chaplain did all three. At least he says he did. And in the span of a few desperate moments he blemished his conscience with what he determined to be "an act of selfishness."

It happened during the opening minutes of a helicopter combat assault. Pierce, 26, of Memphis, Tenn., was aboard a troop-laden aircraft which was moving into the middle of an enemy sanctuary.

The chaplain was aboard as a matter of course. His duties never ended at the pulpit and he often went along on the field operations.

All was well with the mission until the helicopter prepared to land. Then, 20 feet from touchdown the ship took several hits in the tail.

The stabilizing propeller shrieked. Passengers flew as the big green bird lurched out of control.

The rear of the plane sank like a rock and the craft pitched sideways, scrambling the cargo in the melee. Chaplain Pierce was thrown out the open door to the mucky earth.

He was cut up on impact but had no time to worry about the wounds. As he looked up he saw the helicopter's great mass falling almost on top of him. It crashed with its rotor blades impaled in soft dirt, inches from the chaplain's head.

Every man on the chopper was injured. Pierce's legs and hands were lacerated. Other men suffered bumps and abrasions. But, no one was even knocked unconscious. Enemy gunfire erupted anew. The chaplain saw muzzle flashes from behind a thicket. A GI returned fire. Pierce grabbed a gun.

He waited. More shots were fired. The crash victims belled into the reeds and bramble and concentrated fire on the enemy position.

Finally the chaplain opened up himself.

It was, of course, purely an act of self-preservation. Then too, fire protected two helicopter pilots who darted across an open field toward a rescue vehicle.

Pierce aimed his rifle at the enemy powder flashes. He saw no one. He fired a number of times. He was, as everyone was, terribly afraid. He didn't want to kill, necessarily, but rather to force the enemy to break contact.

And in a few minutes the firing died away.

It ended for everyone except Jim Pierce. As a chaplain, a devout Methodist, and a theologian who has serious misgivings about war, it didn't end for him.

No one here faulted his act. Many praised it.

Yet Jim Pierce regretted it. Afterward he said he was

And surely he did help. The downed pilots made it to safety and the return fire brought enemy activity to a halt without further GI injury. But the chaplain said:

Appollo Delay May Help Program

By RONALD THOMPSON
SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Veteran astronaut Neil A. Armstrong says America's spacemen will take advantage of delay in the man to the moon program to be better prepared to accomplish more when Project Apollo gets rolling again.

They are catching up, he said in an interview, on things that before the Apollo 1 disaster they didn't have as much time to study as they would have liked.

As investigators near the end of their probe into the fire that killed three astronauts Jan. 27, it has become apparent that officials hold little hope of staging another manned space flight until early next year.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said Thursday that two prime Apollo astronaut flight teams had been temporarily disbanded. Said one spokesman: "There's no need to officially designate crews until we have a flight schedule."

As a result, all 47 astronauts are in general training only. For the first time since long before Project Gemini, which began in early 1965, no one is training for a specific flight.

Armstrong, a civilian whose Gemini 8 mission a year ago ended with an emergency splashdown after he and Air Force Lt. Col. David R. Scott performed the world's first satellite linkup in space, said there was no doubt the Apollo schedule would suffer some time loss.

"But," he added, "we're certainly going to try and take advantage of the time loss to make up for it in terms of actual program accomplishment for a year."

NASA said it had dissolved the Apollo 2 crew of Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt, Lt. Col. David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart, along with the Apollo 3 team of Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Maj. William A. Anders and Lt. Col. Michael Collins.

"Probably the same three-man components (of Apollo 2 and 3) will remain together," the spokesman said, "but we can't guarantee that."

Apollo 1, as originally scheduled, was to be an earth orbital mission up to 14 days long to give the moonship a good systems checkout. Apollo 2 and 3 were to perform maneuvers with a Lunar Excursion Module, the space taxi to be used to ferry men from the mothership to the moon's surface.

Campaign Incidents Could Occur

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Thursday that there are so many people who work in a campaign that indiscretions could occur.

Sen. Guy Jones of Conway has hinted that Republicans bought the votes of Negroes in Faulkner County in the November general election.

In response to a question whether there were any grounds for the hints, Rockefeller said, "I know that as far as I am concerned, the instructions I gave my campaign people and the care with which I selected them, I would have to say that my charges are without grounds."

Prosecuting Atty. Jeff Mobley is seeking to get Mrs. Wanda Tudor, a receptionist in the governor's office who Jones claimed signed checks for small amounts to Negroes last fall, to bring her records into 5th District Circuit Court at Morrilton.

Two Judgements Total $607,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two men were awarded Wednesday judgments totaling $607,000 in what was believed to be the largest ever awarded in a civil suit over personal injuries in any Arkansas Circuit Court.

Circuit Judge Tom F. Wigby had instructed the jury to find in favor of the plaintiffs but to fix the amount of damages as they saw fit.

The judgments went to Joseph El Prause, 50, and his nephew, Michael A. Armbrust, 19, against George D. D. Huie, 58, a grocer who allegedly shot the two men in the back last June 30 as they walked out of Huie's store.

Armbrust was awarded $572,000 and Prause $35,000. The mixed spice in cheese-cloth and add to the water in which you cook shrimp. Save the shrimp cooking liquid to use as a base for fish soup.

Key figures in President Johnson's party for the Vietnam strategy conference on Guam with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and U.S. military commander Gen. William C. Westmoreland are Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara and Walt W. Rostow, chief presidential assistant on national security affairs. The meeting is the President's third Pacific journey in little over a year. In February 1966 he met with South Vietnamese Premier Ky in Honolulu. Last October's summit conference in Manila brought him together with heads of all six allies involved in the Vietnamese struggle. Guam, an American Pacific bastion since the Spanish-American war, is the home base of 852 bombers that have been the heavyweight mainstays of the air war against North Vietnam.

Sitting in the Shade Between the Races

Your editor got home Thursday night from his first day at the Hot Springs horse races in several years. As in the past I had obtained from J. Sweeney Grant, general manager of Oaklawn Jockey Club, a letter permitting me to cross the track and take color pictures from the centerfield.

I came back with four—possibly five—4x5 Ektachromes, three from the starting gate and two on the home stretch down to the wire. The uncertainty about whether there were four or five pictures is a matter of camera trouble which I'll discuss further on in this column.

The drawing power of Hot Springs for tourists is fantastic. There must have been 100 cars in the parking lot where I left mine—and not another one was from Arkansas. And I suspect the majority of Thursday's track crowd—9,142—was out of state also.

I met an interesting out-of-stater. Between races a working cameraman looks for shady place to sit down in, and I found it behind the Tote Board. There also was a sandy complexioned man with a Scottman's burr. We introduced ourselves and I discovered I was talking to Oaklawn's starter—James Thomson.

To say that Mr. Thomson has been around, is putting it mildly. He's nationally known, a familiar figure at Churchill Downs and starter for the Kentucky Derby. He and Mrs. Thomson reside in Chicago, but his occupation carries the special blessing of requiring them to enjoy Spring in Arkansas.

I verified the fact Mr. Thomson was born in Scotland, but that wasn't where he picked up his skill in handling major stake races. He was a farm boy who moved to Canada to take up farming. Then he came to the United States and began his track career. The trumpet sounded, signaling a 10-minute warning before the next race, and our conversation was interrupted while we went about our separate jobs. Then the horses were off and running and we resumed our seats in the shade and I picked up some more racing history from the man who knows.

For my part, I told Mr. Thomson we hoped to get the process color pictures into The Star before the 1967 Oaklawn season ends. And I explained the camera trouble which raised the doubt whether we have five pictures or only four.

My first picture was at the starting gate for the Second race, a six-furlong sprint with the gate positioned on the back stretch. I was using the black whutter — a focal-plane cloth shutter — and while it seemed to fire O. K., it made a rasping sound. And when I wound it back up for the Third race the 4x5 Speed Graphic camera jammed. The Graphic of course has a Compur shutter at the front, but it was blocked out by the jammed cloth curtain at the back. I had less than 30 minutes to clear the camera or come home without any more pictures.

I took off the back-end assembly of the camera, found the jammed cloth curtain, unreeled its two-foot length, jerked it loose, cleared the camera, adjusted the front shutter, and was ready for action — just as the horses began loading into the starting gate for the Third race!

Your editor has been running cameras for 30 years and it was the first time I ever encountered this particular trouble — but a veteran is supposed to improvise in an emergency . . . and I got away with it.

Appointment Made by WR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller made two appointments Thursday.

Dr. John M. Peterson was appointed executive director of the state's economic development program, and Jerry M. Pace of Eureka Springs was named director of the Office of Aging.

Dr. Peterson, a University of Arkansas economic professor, will oversee economic development planning within such programs as the Ozarks Regional Commission.

Pace assumed duties Thursday, replacing Mrs. Erma Petty who will now become a field representative.

31st Annual Sunrise Service

The Easter Sunrise Service at Hammons Stadium Sunday morning at 6:30 will be the 31st annual service.

Special recognition will be given Roy Anderson who played a large part through the years in promoting and arranging for the services from the first one on.

The entire service will be conducted by laymen except for the Rev. Johnnie Beasley who will preside and the Rev. Jerald Schleff who will preach the sermon.

The Stadium was completed in time for the football season in the Autumn of 1936. The following Easter Day was the occasion for holding the first Sunrise Service. It was on March 28, 1937.

Miss Beryl Henry, superintendent of schools sent invitations to residents in this area to attend and school buses were used to transport them to the Stadium in 1939.

In that year Rev. W. R. Hamilton, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, preached the sermon.

Other interesting parts of the service were cornet solos, one by Wallace Van Sickle "The Holy City" and one by Kenneth Crank, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today". The cornetists were stationed in the woods east of the Stadium.

Rockefeller Talks Up Turnpike Plan

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller told representatives from 21 western Arkansas counties Thursday that the proposed western Arkansas turnpike was the tool for redevelopment of that section of the state.

The governor assured a gathering of more than 100 persons here at a meeting of the Western Arkansas Development Association that he has given top priority to the proposed north-south Arkansas turnpike.

He said he has talked with the four governor from the surrounding states on turnpike proposals. He promised further cooperation and assistance to the interests concerned with the turnpike's construction.

Pointing out the importance of the turnpike for developing western Arkansas, Rockefeller said 73 per cent of the cars serviced by the Will Rogers Turnpike to Tulsa, Okla., are from out of state.

Rockefeller talked only briefly on his recent conversation with Oklahoma Gov. Dewey Bartlett in connection with a proposed interstate compact for building the turnpike.

Second Soviet Fishing Ship Seized, Alaskans Want Something Done

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — While a Coast Guard cutter and a Soviet trawler seized battled stormy seas en route to Kodiak today, a stormy situation was brewing among officials irritated at Soviet intrusions of Alaska fishing areas.

The seizure of the 178-foot trawler SRTM 8-457 by the cutter Storis 15 miles off the Shumagin Islands triggered demands by Alaskans for stern action against the Soviets.

The seizure was the second such incident off Alaska shores this month. On March 2 the Soviet trawler SRTM 8-413 was seized about 100 miles northeast of that area. The skipper was charged in U.S. District Court in Anchorage with violating territorial waters by fishing within the 3-mile limit and was fined $5,000. The fine was paid without protest.

In Washington Thursday, Sens. E. L. Bartlett and Ernest Gruening, both D-Alaska, called upon the government to deal more strongly with the Soviets. "Teach the Russians a lesson they will not soon forget," Bartlett said.

"The Soviet government could easily forbid and thereby effect-tively prevent its fishermen from engaging in these violations," Gruening said. "The best way to prevent them" is to impose the maximum penalty.

The congressmen's comments were echoed by Alaska states legislators.

"Seize the vessel and sell its catch and ship the crew back home," State Rep. Charles Powell, R-Kodiak, said here.

The Kodiak Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution which said, "We bitterly oppose the gentle handling of the previous arrest of the Soviet vessel and we hope this incident is much more firmly penalized."

Gov. Walter J. Hickel said he had asked the government to press for the maximum penalty which would be a $10,000 fine and one year in jail for each crewman and forfeiture of the vessel and its cargo.

But Donald L. McKernan, special assistant to Secretary of State Dean Rusk for fisheries and wildlife, said "the government should take a long-range view in moving ahead on this violation, rather than exacting retribution" for violation of the recent Soviet-American fishing agreement.

Purcell Seeks to Revoke Club Charters

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit to revoke the charters of four more private clubs in Hot Springs was filed Thursday by Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell.

Planes Bomb Power Plant Near Hanoi

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — Warplanes from two U.S. aircraft carriers penetrated the missile envelope around North Vietnam's industrial heartland Friday to attack the Thai Nguyen thermal power plant 39 miles from Hanoi.

It was the second big strike against the power plant, which is close to the vital Thai Nguyen steel plant. The steel plant has been bombed four times. Both targets were barred to U.S. pilots until early this month but have since been subjected to heavy bombing despite continuous bad weather over North Vietnam.

Pilots from the 85,000-ton nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise and the 76,000-ton Kitty Hawk streaked through the Thai Nguyen antiaircraft defenses under cover of the darkness before dawn. Flying A6 all-weather intruders, they rained down 1,000-pound bombs aimed by radar and computers.

While one group of raiders was going after the Thai Nguyen plant, more intruders from the two carriers winged 32 miles south of the Red capital to blast an army barracks area at Chi Ne, where North Vietnamese troops may be staging to infiltrate the South.

The Thai Nguyen steel plant and power station are a significant segment of North Vietnam's industry. The steel plant, though incomplete, had been producing oil tanks and bridge sections. The power plant produced perhaps 20 per cent of the electricity for the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Both are well within the ring of sites for the Soviet-built surface-to-air missiles that comprise the "missile envelope" around the Hanoi-Haiphong area. U.S. pilots call this "Indian country."

Air Force spokesmen no longer say when U.S. planes run into missile attacks, but previous raids on the Thai Nguyen complex are known to have provoked a volley of the Red rockets. However, no losses were announced for Friday's strikes.

Although carrier Navy jets and Air Force planes from Thailand have now pasted the Thai Nguyen area half a dozen times, no comprehensive report has been made on the effects of the raids. Spokesmen say heavy weather has prevented good visual or photo reconnaissance after the raids.

Heavy weather continued over the North Thursday, but pilots flew 80 missions. Most of their targets were road, rail and water supply points from the Hanoi area south to the 17th Parallel.

In South Vietnam, there was some scattered but sharp ground fighting, but the war generally slackened. It was not for lack of allied effort, however. Currently 18 ground operations are under way, involving U.S., South Korean and Australian troops.

The heaviest reported fighting came in the northern part of South Vietnam where U.S. Marines killed 92 North Vietnamese regulars Thursday — 61 of these in an unusual duel between Communist mortars and the snub-nosed 105mm howitzers aboard two Marine amphibious craft. Three Marines were killed and 11 were wounded.

In the central highlands, in the jungles along the Cambodian border and in the delta rice lands, the Viet Cong generally stuck to long-range mortar attacks, now their chief weapon in the growing war of attrition.
